

Wakefield-Vette Enhances Capabilities in Vacuum and Dip Brazing with Acquisition of Dover, New Hampshire's Costello/April Design

Pelham, NH November 15, 2016 – Wakefield-Vette, a global leader in thermal management solutions, is pleased to announce the acquisition of Dover, New Hampshire based vacuum and dip brazing company, Costello/April Design (C/A Design). C/A Design is a manufacturer and supplier of engineering services, compact heat exchangers, CNC machined components and electronic enclosures to a variety of military and aerospace end customers.

Wakefield-Vette's addition of C/A Design allows for additional capabilities, products, and resources for its Mil & Aero world class customers. While adding value in the supply chain, this acquisition also allows for Wakefield-Vette to continue its development and innovation of new products in other growing market segments such as industrial, power, and energy.

"C/A Design is a tremendous addition to the Wakefield-Vette portfolio." says David Stone, Vice-President of Sales & Technology at Wakefield-Vette. "C/A has a reputation for their ability to produce the highest complexity brazements in the industry. We look forward to offering this service to our Military and Aerospace customer base to fulfill their most stringent precision and quality needs."
